Sir Samuel Hoare Warns Italy That Great Britain Stands Firm Against War

ITALY TIGHTENS TIES BETWEEN ARMED FORCES

Diplomats Hint That Zero Hour Might Be October 10

By Andree Berding
Rome, Sept. 11.—Italy tightened the ties between her land and sea forces in and near East Africa tonight as hints were heard in diplomatic circles that October 10 might be the "zero hour" for hostilities with Ethiopia.

Provisions were announced for close collaboration between the fleet in the Red Sea, the Gulf of Aden and the Indian Ocean, and General Emilio De-Bono, who is high commissioner of Eritrea and Somaliland and commander of II Duce's troops there.

An order published in the official Gazette stated:

"The commander of the naval division of East Africa, in the case of particular emergencies of a colonial nature or hostilities of whatsoever nature, is to place himself at the disposition of the high commissioner of East Africa for the eventual use of any force recognized as urgent and as not contradictory to the directives imposed by the navy department."

The commander also was told that in the case of combined operations with the army air force he is to co-operate most closely with General De-Bono. Permission was granted for the use of special supplies for refueling at points remote from bases.

Military men described the provisions as a preparatory move to the closest cooperation between the navy and the army when—and if—an Italo-Ethiopian war begins.

As for the latest speculation concerning the "zero hour," diplomatic informants said their word concerning the October 10 date came from government sources. This, however, could not be confirmed.

In press, following upon the strong speech at Geneva by Sir Samuel Hoare, British Foreign Secretary, appealed to Fatics to follow Great Britain in her attitude toward same.

Liquor Dealers Are Indicted

Danville, Ill., Sept. 11.—Brown-Owen, Inc., East St. Louis liquor dealers indicted here today by a federal grand jury for violation of the internal revenue law, were charged with failing to keep proper record of liquor sales.

Joseph Ahern, special agent from the Chicago office of the alcohol tax unit, said his investigation of the company extended over several months following September, 1934.

Government authorities indicated arraignment of the firm probably would take place Saturday at East St. Louis.

CONGRESSMAN OPENS ATTACK ON ROOSEVELT

Unconstitutional Laws Are Demanded Snell Declares

Washington, Sept. 11.—(P)—A Republican charge that President Roosevelt had "dictatorially demanded" unconstitutional legislation in order to dramatize a 1936 campaign demand for a change in the constitution came today from Representative Snell of New York.

Snell house minority leader and one of twenty-odd persons who have been mentioned for the Republican nomination, made the statement just as it was disclosed that despite the busy days of Republicans, the Democratic National committee planned to pursue a waiting policy for the next three months.

Chairman James A. Farley went on record with the remark that there would be little activity so far as the committee was concerned until about time to begin rounding up delegates in January for the national convention.

At Republican headquarters, Chairman Henry P. Fletcher was busy with plans for a meeting of the national executive committee two weeks hence. He was arranging to put before the committee an outline of his program for the next few months. Already he had set about expanding the women's division.

Outside of committee circles, there was more activity forecast for the Democrats, however. President Roosevelt was described at Hyde Park as likely to make at least one speech on his forthcoming western trip, giving views of the accomplishments of the last session of congress.

The first reaction of the Italians to Hoare's speech was one of irritation. Their spokesman declared the British statesman had offered nothing concrete.

Hoare's pledge to back the covenant was interpreted by observers as an indication Britain would not do nothing, sanctions should the feel them necessary to prevent or stop war.

Delegates of smaller nations, who feel their fate is bound up in the issue, hailed it with enthusiasm. One called it "the greatest speech ever delivered before the league by a British statesman."

Premier Laval of France, it was learned, planned to telephone Premier Mussolini a final appeal that he take a conciliatory attitude.

A spirit of war, Sir Samuel said, "even of war for war's sake" has raised its head in more places than one." If changes come, he declared, they must come "by consent, not dictation; by peaceful means, not war or threat of war."

GERMANY NOW IN SECURITY HITLER SAYS

Wilson's 14 Points Are Scored By Dictator

By Louis P. Lochner,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Nuremberg, Germany, Sept. 11.—(P)—Adolf Hitler expressed jubilation that Germany has regained her military freedom and "is no longer a football" in a keynote proclamation read today at the Nazi party convention.

Scoring the famous 14 points of the late Woodrow Wilson, the Reichsfuehrer demanded:

"Where are the 14 points of Wilson and where is the world today? The Reich is no longer a football and no longer an object of foreign maneuvering, but now is in security—in security not by pacts but by the real power of the nation and by the firm will of its leadership."

President Wilson's 14 points in 1918 formed a basis for the treaty of Versailles and for the eventual establishment of the League of Nations.

Hitler, in an official proclamation, asserted: "We Nazis intend to live in peace and quiet with our neighbors. It is not necessary for us to prove our security by any demonstrations. It is sufficient that we ourselves know it."

"We see in our army the protection for peaceful labor. And when we are forced to make sacrifices, then we will make them for our liberty and labor."

"This army is our most valued and proudest possession."

An anti-Semitic note found a prominent place in the first day's deliberation, as did a sharp warning to "men of the cloth" indulging in politics.

Hitler this afternoon solemnly laid the cornerstone for a new party convention hall which will be the largest structure of its kind in the world.

GIFFORD FUNERAL

Elgin, Ill., Sept. 11.—(P)—Funeral services were held today for Charles A. Gifford, 70, descendant of the Gifford family which founded this city. Death occurred yesterday at his farm home near here.

During the Elgin centennial earlier in the year Mr. Gifford participated as "Hezekiah Gifford," his uncle, one of the city's founders.

Surviving are the widow and eight children.

RELEASED IN BOND

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 11.—George M. Smith, former county superintendent of schools, today was released from jail on $5,000 bond to await trial on the grand jury which next Monday will investigate an alleged shortage of $25,888 in the state school distributive fund. Smith was arrested last Friday on a warrant charging embezzlement of the sum.

Dust Area Tree Belt Takes Form

Evidenced that the shelter belt, the government's vast tree planting project from Texas to Canada, may be practicable in combating dust storms is given by this picture, taken in the "dust bowl." The photo shows a row of locusts now standing eight feet high as compared to 12 to 18 inches last April. The ample space left for growth is shown by the wide "aisle" between the tree rows.

FARM WOMAN TAKES THRUST AT NEW DEAL

Brands AAA "Part Of Vast Communistic Design"

Chicago, Sept. 11.—(P)—Mrs. George B. Simmons, quiet wife who stole the show at the recent grass roots Republican conference, raked the Democratic administration with new broadsides today.

"I look across the land I love with a feeling of desolation," she declared, "knowing how in Washington there are soft handed sophisticates who would scorn to touch a plow handle yet who have been given the power to tell my farmer-husband what and how much he can raise."

Her thrusts at the new deal, couched in plain language of her Marshall, Mo., neighborhood, evoked rounds of applause from Chicago G.O.P. leaders gathered at a luncheon.

"They taunt us for a plan for agriculture," she said. "Has it not been enough that in the years when farm people built a great nation that every farmer made his own plan? We do not need any imported plan that regiments us and ruins our opportunities. We need to regain our foreign markets, less and lower taxes, an end to the unrest that this administration has so immeasurably increased."

"I can not see how putting the mark of the beast of bureaucracy on our white potatoes can contribute to prosperity."

She branded the A.A.A. "part of a vast communistic design" and saw "forces capable of destroying the constitution when the pieces are put together."

CONFUSION IS GRIPPING WORK RELIEF PLANS

Chieftains Parade To Hyde Park For Conferences

By Thomas J. Hamilton, Jr.,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Washington, Sept. 11.—(P)—Confusion gripped the work relief program today as chieftains paraded to Hyde Park for presidential conferences which will determine whose ideas are to control spending of $4,000,000,000.

Frank C. Walker, head of the work relief applications division, was the first to head toward President Roosevelt's vacation after differences between Harry L. Hopkins and Secretary Ickes flared into the open yesterday.

Then, while their aides worked far into the night rushing through hundreds of projects in preparation for tomorrow's deadline on accepting applications, Ickes and Hopkins both left to press final arguments before the chief executive.

Ickes, challenging Hopkins authority to reject 2,000 public works projects, left early today with Undersecretary Charles West.

Only a few hours later Hopkins turned northward.

A fifth trusted adviser of the president, Undersecretary Tugwell whose resettlement administration already has been in conflict with Ickes, goes to Hyde Park tomorrow.

In Cincinnati, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, took a hand in the Ickes-Hopkins dispute by announcing an appeal to President Roosevelt to overrule Hopkins' rejection of the huge batch of PWA projects.

In Washington, PWA officials said Hopkins' work progress administration was refusing to disclose the status of a big batch of PWA projects submitted in the deadline rush.

But a sign of hope for Ickes' insistence on durable structures was seen in an announcement that the president had allotted an additional $24,750,000 for 16 PWA low-cost housing and slum-clearance projects in 13 cities of 10 states.

Officials explained that time necessary to complete architectural drawings and to advertise for bids made the deadline a large difficulty.

ACCIDENTAL DROWNING

Elgin, Ill., Sept. 11.—(P)—A coroner's jury today found that Leonard Knoblet, 29, Trimble, and Ralph Harrison, 33, Robinson, died from accidental drowning when they drove their motor car off the end of a ferryboat and into the Wabash river.

The accident occurred last Sunday at Old York. Harold Reynolds, 30, who was asleep in a rear seat of the motor car, woke up in the river and swam to safety. He was the principal witness at the inquest.

SLAYER OF GREENE YOUTH EXONERATED BY GRAND JURORS

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 11.—(P)—The grand jury here today exonerated A. Boethof, Chicago boggabegian, in connection with the fatal shooting of CCC Recruit Elmer Lynn Smith, White Hall, as he tried to board the blinds of an Alton mail train here July 26. Boethof had been charged with manslaughter in the case.

Smith was fatally shot when he attempted to board the Alton railway train while he and a companion were enroute to their homes in Greene County. For a time the identity of the person who fired the fatal shot was unknown, but Boethof later admitted he shot Smith when he thought the train was going to be robbed.

FROM INDIANA

Ralph Linville, professor of chemistry at Illinois College, and Mrs. Linville returned to the college Wednesday evening to attend the Greene County Fair. The delegation was accompanied by the Jacksonville Civic band. Several members of the delegation were transported to Carrollton by two trucks provided by Lieutenant Fayette L. Merriman of the local CCC Camp.

Among the Bluffs visitors here yesterday was E. G. Schmidt.

TAPPER FUNERAL

Elgin, Ill., Sept. 11.—(P)—Funeral arrangements for Dr. John G. Tapper, 82, who died at his home Tuesday night, will be held tomorrow at the residence. Dr. Tapper was born in Sweden, the son of an army officer, and came to this country as an infant. His family settled near Menard, Ill.

LOCAL DELEGATION TO GREENE FAIR

A large delegation of Jacksonville residents and officials of the Morgan County Fair went to Carrollton Wednesday evening to attend the Greene County Fair. The delegation was accompanied by the Jacksonville Civic band. Several members of the delegation were transported to Carrollton by two trucks provided by Lieutenant Fayette L. Merriman of the local CCC Camp.

TEACHER KILLED

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 11.—(P)—Miss Helen Lois Martin, 20, Bloomington, was instantly killed when her small automobile struck loose gravel and turned over on a downgrade late today. The accident happened almost sight of the Holder School near Hudson, 12 miles north of here. Miss Martin had started teaching this year, following graduation in June.

FILE PETITION

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 11.—(P)—

Standard City yesterday filed a mandamus petition in Circuit Court against K. L. Ames, Jr., director of the state department of finance, to compel him to turn over its share of motor fuel tax collections. ## Senator Huey Long's Body Lies In State As Foes And Friends Prepare For Fight

LABOR BODY TO OPEN FIGHT ON ILLINOIS WPA

Federation Speakers Bitterly Condemn Administration

Belleview, Ill., Sept. 11.—(P)—Organized labor today marshaled itself for a "finis fight" against the works progress administration in Illinois, bitterly condemned by speakers at a state Federation of Labor convention here.

Resolutions submitted to the delegates today called for the resignation of R. J. Dunham, Chicago, as state administrator for the WPA. Later Carl H. Bauer, state director of the PWA in Illinois, told the convention he would endorse any move toward abolition of the works progress program in the state.

The attack on Dunham and the PWA centered around two points, the alleged failure of the PWA to pay prevailing wage scales on state relief projects, and the action of the Chicago board of park commissions, of which Dunham is chairman in refusing to permit the use of Soldiers Field by Father Charles E. Coughlin for an address on June 5, 1935.

The resolution seeking the ouster of Dunham as WPA head was drafted by the Chicago Federation of Labor and adopted by that organization. It charged Dunham with "insolent defiance of the expressed and implied principles as voiced by the American Declaration of Independence."

It asked that he be removed from "any and all offices he may hold in either the national or local public service."

Bauer urged the delegates to

We Emerge From Mud

Fifteen years ago Jacksonville and Morgan county were literally in the mud. There were no hard roads and not much prospect of getting any. But there were some enthusiastic boosters,
who foresaw the expansion of the hard road building program in Illinois and sought to obtain the necessary mileage
for this county.

Today this section is well out of the mud and the hard road system continues to expand. Section by section the roads have been completed until Jacksonville is the hub of a road network that links the community with everywhere. The latest portion of a spoke was completed with the establishment of a continuous hard road short cut to Quincy via Route 108. The portion of this road from Liberty to Quincy had been finished for two years, but now the pavement is complete from Liberty to the junction with Route 104 west of the river. At the same time Route 104 continues to Mount Sterling, where it connects with the Quincy-Beardstown route.

Another gap in Route 104 remains to be completed to finish the slab
from Mount Sterling to Taylorville.
That gap is thru, or around the village of Franklin, depending on the settlement of a dispute over right-of-way.
Once it is done, the spokes that converge with this city for a hub will be complete. The new bridge at Mere-dosa will put the finishing touch on a hard road program that has put
this city on three arterial highways,
two of them federal interstate routes.

The remaining job is to connect rural sections still served by dirt roads with pavements by means of all-weather routes. It is hoped the WPA fund will accomplish this part of the program and provide twenty miles of improved highway for each road district, as well as some main roads across the county.

War Plays Its Part

It is deplorable that students of history
have to admit that war has played an important part in the shaping of its course. Efforts have been made to lessen the importance of war in the modern world, but today peace seems more in jeopardy than at any time since the close of the great world conflict
seventeen years ago.

"Fifteen Decisive Battles of the World" is the title of a book that has become a history classic. It relates the principal engagements in detail and analyzes their results. We are told that the battle of Marathon kept Persia from ruling Europe; Arbela gave Asia to Alexander; Chalons turned back the Huns and saved Christianity; Tours checked the invasion of the Mohammedans; Waterloo ended the power of Napoleon.

All this may be true, but those who conclude that battles have shaped the progress of the human race have not read half the story.

There are peace time events that have had as much to do with human history as have those of war periods.
More has been accomplished to lift mankind to a higher plane through invention than by conquest. Scientific discovery has surely added more to human happiness than has the spreading of culture at the point of the sword.
The idea that a man has to be shot or struck with a bayonet before he can be civilized is all wrong.

The application of the power of steam gave mankind the railroad, the factory, the machine age, and production that brought goods within the reach of all. The application of electricity has freed the world from drudgery and lengthened the hours during which man can improve or amuse himself. The combination of

Marked For Doom
From Beginning

Stone and Roberts Are Groomed . . . If a Dog Bites
a Toad Twice, He's Dumb
. . . Senate Munitions Prob-
ers to Carry on Battle.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

When Baron Pompeo Aloisi and his associates on the Italian delegation walked out of the League of Nations council session the other day, they put the seal and signature on the world's general declaration of lack of confidence in the league's ability to enforce peace.

But it would be foolish to blame the Italians for the league's failure. The seeds of that failure were planted long ago, and all the great nations had a hand in their sowing. Indeed, the responsibility ultimately seems to rest on human nature itself, for its inability to be courageous and far-sighted.

The league was born of mingled despair and hope. The end of the World war found the people of the world sick of war as they had never been before in all history. They were not quite sure that the war had not actually wrecked civilization; they were quite sure that a new war would do so beyond dispute. They evolved the league as their safeguard.

But it was cursed from the start.
The diplomats at Paris were not the men to fashion a new world. Lloyd George had just won an election
on a "hang the kaiser" program.
Clemenceau was cynical and vengeful, determined to see Germany crushed. Wilson was visionary and arbitrary, impatient of advice and ready to invest the hopes of the world
in a gold brick.

These men shaped the league. They tied it up with a treaty so that the league could be used to enforce the provisions of this treaty. Then they went home and awaited developments.
What happened after that was only too natural. America solemnly washed her hands of the whole performance.
France began energetically to use the league as an instrument to insure her own victory over Germany.

England contributed many pious phrases, sat tight on the former German colonies, and quietly sabotaged
the naval disarmament conferences.

It would put flesh and blood on the Constitution issue which to date has about the strongest one the party has been able to think up. In short, there are many in both parties who think it's a very bright idea.

Stone Pet at Present

Justice Stone is the favorite in these preliminary whisperings. He is something of a liberal and didn't concur in the railroad pensions opinion by Justice Roberts which would make the latter a target for liberals and labor if he were out where they could shoot at him.

Stone is also an old medicine ball playmate of Herbert Hoover, which may be an important factor. Roberts was once an attorney for the Pennsylvania railroad.

Uncle Andy Mellon, since the pension decision, has been reported ready to put up large sums to nominate and elect Roberts.

The wealthy friends of Mr. Hilles are ready to put up large gobs of money for anyone they think can beat Roosevelt, but are not anxious to spend a nickel on a losing horse.

Mr. Hilles has very little use for Hoover and the general Wall Street idea seems to be that Hoover couldn't win.

Hilles has shown a lack of enthusiasm also for Col. Frank Knox of Chicago, and Bob Lucas, a Knox man, recently blasted Hilles as the dominating force on the national committee who would put the indelible stamp of Wall Street on the party ticket, platform, and convention if other Republicans didn't band together and stop him.

Plays Deep Game

Mr. Hilles is understood to be subsidizing certain Republican stalking horses in the country who think they are candidates, but will be told differ-ently by Mr. Hilles later on. Of course either Stone or Roberts—neither of whom may want the honor—would automatically disqualify himself if he concurred in any decision against the AAA.

You probably won't get a clear line on what Mr. Hilles is up to until the winter league session, at which the committee will pick a convention city
and discuss candidates behind closed doors.

By that time the supreme court, including Justice Stone and Roberts, may have spoken its piece as to the AAA.

Munitions Fight to Go On

Senate munitions committee men who got something less than half a loaf at the first session of this Congress, will resume in January the fight for their bills to tax profits out of war and to eliminate collusion among shipbuilders on battleship bids, as well as for stronger neutrality legislation.

Senator Tom Connally, chairman of the finance subcommittee considering the profits bill, delayed action until the last minute and the measure is now parked with treasury experts and legislative draftsmen of the joint committee on taxation.

A finished bill, however, may be ready for consideration by January.

Chairman Park Trammell of the naval affairs committee put the collusion bill in his pocket and didn't even present it before the committee. He is likely to hear plenty about that next session from Senators Bone, Nye, and Clark.

55 Players Seek Positions On J.H.S. Football Eleven

Fifty-five candidates for positions on the Jacksonville High school football team have drawn equipment, and more than four full teams are reporting every night for the team which at this stage of the training season is far from determined. Shifts take place nightly particularly in the backfield, where Coach Frank Walker is sorely put to it this year to find capable men.

The Crimsons are attempting their most pretentious schedule this year, playing ten straight games beginning with Pittsfield, here Sept. 21, and continuing up to Nov. 23, when they wind up with a game at Wood River. The Wood River game was just booked yesterday.

Almost reversing the situation of last year when he had good backs, the Crimson coach has found nothing but worry in his efforts to find a quartette of ball carriers who can do some of the things except run in a straight line. There is a limit that promises to be up with the best of the J. H. S. lines of recent year, and that fact is permitting the coach to spend more time with his backfield material.

The line, if it goes into battle in anywhere near the make-up that was used last night, will average close to 150 pounds, and may go over that. Capt. Warren Breeding is one of the lightest men in the forward wall, weighing only 140 pounds, but making up for his lack of weight with a lot of speed getting to his blocking assignments.

Bob Hopper, another veteran and also a guard, gives the Crimson coach two experienced interlocutors who are able to get over the ground and do what they are supposed to do without a lot of coaching. Big George Hamilton, the third veteran in the line, will be at right end where his pass catching ability can be utilized.

Two new tackles, Winfield Chino, who played at Greenfield last year, and Robert Husted, a 225 pounder, and one new end, Willis Frank, complete the protecting positions for the pivot man, and there is a hot battle on for this position. Dick Hartman, if he is able to master the art of passing while in an upside down position, is favored for the job, but Leo Murphy is giving him a tough fight. Hartman weighs about 160 pounds and Murphy about 145.

Pitcher to Passer. One of Coach Walker's fondest dreams this year is that a pitcher, who gained considerable repute in local Tw-Y-Light league circles last year, will become a passer. He is Leroy Leach, the Alexander boy who throws from the wrong side. Leach jumped into a varsity position last night for the first time, but showed so many signs that were encouraging that he probably will be kept there for another few days. Leach has never played football before, and is winding up his fourth year of high school in Jacksonville.

Still another surprise is the work of Everett Summers, another lad who has been out a couple of times before, but who settled down to business this year and battled his way to another place in the backfield. Summers, who weighs 145 pounds, has a lot to learn about the game, but has shown himself to be a willing pupil.

Last night was filled with surprises, for the Crimson coach moved Clarence Rimbey from the second string to the first string, and uncovered another possible halfback. The 150 pounder has plenty of courage and is quick on defense, but needs to learn a lot about pivoting and spinning. Dick Benson has hung onto his first team place as a fullback almost from the opening practice of the year, and probably will be in there when the opening whistle sounds.

Pony Backs Available. The coach also has a set of pony backs that may cause a lot of trouble. They are Gilbert Porter, a speedy, spinning and twisting little fellow, Chuck DeWitt, who had some experience last year and who also can travel at fast clip, Don Ranson, another veteran from last year who may get one of the first team jobs, and Burl Anders, the latter the greenest of the group.

While the second team line isn't as heavy as the first string, it packs a terrific punch, as the regular linemen have learned in several of the scrimmages the Crimsons have held. The center of the line, with either Murphy or Hartman in it, and Bob Greenleaf and Lee Ward on either side, has been hard to penetrate. Arthur

Cubs Overwhelm

Braves 15 to 3

Chicago, Sept. 11.—(P)—Mixing hits with many Boston fielding lapses, the cowering Cubs spread to a 15 to 3 win over the Braves today and kept pace a game behind the leading Cardinals.

The victory, the Cubs' eighth in succession and their 19th in 22 meetings with the ruffie tailenders this season, swept the four game series and enabled the challenging Chicagoans to gain a full game on the third place Giants, whom they now top by two and one-half games.

The defeat was the Braves' twelfth in a row.

Backed up by two "big innings" in which the Cubs sent 11 men to the plate for six runs off MacFayden and Smith in the fifth and sent 12 men to bat for eight runs off Bettis in the eighth, Bill Lee breezed to his 17th victory of the season. He has lost six.

Stan Hack led the Cubs' attack, their first heavy hitting of their winning streak, with a double and three singles.

The trio of Boston pitchers were handicapped by an afternoon of picnicky support that was climaxized when Mowry made a two base miff of Herman's fly with the bases loaded and two out in the eighth, permitting the three final runs to scamper across the plate. It was the third Boston error of the innings and the fourth of the game, Urbanski being charged with two and Berger one, in addition to several fly balls falling for hits because of faulty outfielding.

The Crimsons are beginning this year athletically with their finances in excellent shape—the best shape they have been in since the school joined the Big Twelve conference. With the debt load lifted and the mortgages burned, the Crimsons can again begin putting something back into equipment.

Dick Schultz, big Beardstown foot-ball and basketball player, and Tom Charles, pole vaulter who won the state interscholastic last year, are among the boys who have enrolled at the University of Illinois this year.

In order to prevent teams from taking advantage of this ruling, the rules now say that the kickers may decline the penalty for a foul committed simultaneously with or subsequent to the illegal touching. That "subsequent to" phrase may cause a lot of trouble, too, because it has been interpreted to mean that the kicking team may decline the penalty for a foul committed after the receivers have returned the ball considerable distance, provided of course, that there was illegal touching on the kicking team's part.

The Joker in this situation is that the receiving team, in case the kickers decline the penalty for the subsequent foul, also has the right to decline the penalty for illegal touching. Anyway, the way is opened now for a lot of decisions.

The Washington University sports department is arranging a special train for the accommodation of followers of the team who want to see the Bears in action against the Illini this fall.

Coach Wallace Baptist is interested in lining up an opponent for his open date, Nov. 1 or 2. Jerseyville, Onarga and Lincoln have this date open.

There'll be some more on this later.

Despite word to the contrary published in this column the other day, Coach Mason Campbell, who took over the job Coach Foster Keasler left open when he accepted a position as coach at Harrisburg, has a flock of lettermen back.

Coach O. L. Krughoff was considerably disappointed when he got his Carrollton high candidates out. He found one or two of the boys had moved away, leaving open positions which he believed would be well handled.

You can credit E. T. Bales of the Chattanooga Free-Press with this one:

Maj. Bob Neyland, who made Tennessee a household word in national football circles, wanted to go back there and coach—but was turned down.

Bales says the Major (apparently he has made arrangements about that army hitch in Panama) is ready to return to the Vols right now, either as head coach or assistant... But Tennessee has elected to stand pat on Maj. Bill Brittain. Neyland's ex aide, who was given the helm when the army took Neyland away.

It's a strange story and hard to believe—but Bales always knows what he is talking about... Even if Tennessie felt it didn't want to do anything about Brittain's contract, how about an assistant's job. Is everyone in Knoxville so lathered up over prospects for another great team they've forgotten the departed?

Bo McMillin has succeeded "Old Man" Stagg as the Big Ten's No. 1 "feared"... He's going around moaning his Indiana team won't win a game... Mike Jacobs and Jimmy Johnson scrap like dogs over fighters but lunch together frequently.

Frank Thomas, Alabama coach, will be in the magazines soon... Pie Traynor never goes to the plate without kissing the handle of his bat.

Commiss Defeat Redsox 10 to 2

Boston, Sept. 11.—(P)—The veteran Sam Jones, backed by the busy swatting of his mates, pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 10-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox today in the east of the 1935 clashes between those clubs.

The Comminons, who swept the first three games of the current series, ended their campaign against the White Sox with 13 victories and nine set-backs.

Zeb Bonura set the pace for the visitors when, while leading off in the fourth inning, he belted out his 20th home run of the season against Dusty Rhodes, who opened for the Red Sox and lasted for five innnings. Rhodes received ragged support from his mates, as did Bowers, a young rookie, who pitched the sixth innning before turning the mound over to Walter Ripley, an 18-year-old prospect.

The Tigers are considerably cheered this year, due to a new ruling on eligibility which has extended the time of some of the boys for another half year. Burns is expecting to have another good team available.

The Illinois High School Athlete, official organ of the I.H.S.A.A., lists Wednesday, Sept. 18, as the date for the annual football rules discussion and get-together to be held here. E. H. Mellon, a member of the board of directors and vice president of the board, will be in charge of this district meeting.

Football examinations for members of the I.H.S.A.A. Officials association will be held on Oct. 7 in about 50 cities. Springfield, Havana, Beardstown, Pittsfield and Jerseyville along with Jacksonville will be centers for the examinations in this area.

The Athlete points out several changes in the high school code for this year. Among the changes is one requiring all players to wear head-gear, and specifies that unless the player does wear one, he may be declared as appearing on the field without legal equipment, and therefore banned from the game.

However, most of the coaches are firing the sample lots right back to the sporting goods houses. They would much rather purchase those the players will wear in eight games instead of a pair they may wear in one game.

Jacksonville high is appearing in neat red shirts this year along with some new trousers. Walker really is getting his team equipped so that it looks like a football team.

It's been a long uphill fight for the J. H. S. chief, but the battle is all over.

Another new rule makes hurdling applicable to all players instead of just the player carrying the ball. The rules also specify this year that if there is a foul on the last down of a quarter, another down may be allowed unless the penalty is declined.

Last year the foul had to be committed by the defending team.

Rule makers also hope they have heard the last of the wrangle over declaring a foul for the kickers to touch a kicked ball before it has been touched by the receiving team. With the debt load lifted and the mortgages burned, the Crimsons can again begin putting something back into equipment.

Dick Schultz, big Beardstown foot-ball and basketball player, and Tom Charles, pole vaulter who won the state interscholastic last year, are among the boys who have enrolled at the University of Illinois this year.

The Washington University sports department is arranging a special train for the accommodation of followers of the team who want to see the Bears in action against the Illini this fall.

The Joker in this situation is that the receiving team, in case the kickers decline the penalty for the subsequent foul, also has the right to decline the penalty for illegal touching. Anyway, the way is opened now for a lot of decisions.

Letter of Director

The Art Department of Illinois College has received high commendation from the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts in a letter received by Homer H. Dasey from Hugh M. Newman, managing director.

The Chicago Academy of Fine Arts will be pleased to have you, on whatever occasion may be necessary, make the following statement, which may appear in any publication or used otherwise: "Study in the Department of Art, Illinois College, Jacksonville, accredited at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts," the letter said.

Improve Studios

In preparation for the coming school year Illinois College has completed extensive improvements in the studios of the art department. All equipment in the studio is very modern in style. The studio has been enlarged to the size of 40 ft. by 25 ft. new drawing tables have been procured. On the south side is a platform or dias, with two, one thousand watt flood lights used in the study of the physics of color and also as a modeling platform.

The work room has been enlarged to 25 ft. by 25 ft. It is equipped with the latest machinery, stage sets, drama, advertising displays and so forth.

The studios are furnished with direct lighting and daylight bulbs in order to produce the equivalent of a cold north light. Due to the popularity and demand in clay modeling, modeling stands have been constructed and casts for the study of analytical anatomy have been purchased.

An addition to the department is a light color cabinet. This is the latest in the application of color in art and consists of a cabinet with multi colors, which can be placed over the subject to be studied, enabling the operator to make any combination of colors possible.

In conjunction with art courses new photographic equipment has been purchased and will be used effectively in experimentation and in recording work of the students.

The equipment consists of different kinds of cameras and facilities for enlarging and dark room, and is complete in every way.

Blueboys Forced To Wait Until Monday

Little 19 Ruling Prevents Drill Until 15th Unless College is Open

Forced to wait until Sept. 15, which this year falls on Sunday, before they can get down to organized practice, the Illinois College Blueboys will not be called into camp until Saturday of this week, when it is hoped that it will be possible to clear away physical examinations before calling the squad out for its initial practice Monday.

Coach Raymond Nussickel, who will have charge of the team again this year, arrived in the city late Tuesday night and spent part of yesterday getting settled for the winter. The Blueboy coach has been spending the summer in New York City, attending Columbia university where he is taking work leading to a master's degree in physical education.

Athletic Director LaRue Van Meter yesterday disclosed that there was a possibility of getting a game with Millikin university this year, closing up a gap in the schedule either the first or second week-end in October.

Athletic Director Leo Johnson has not submitted contracts for the date as yet, but has advertised a game with the Illinois college on schedules released by Millikin university.

Plans now call for the members of this year's squad to report here either Friday or Saturday of this week, to take physical examinations, and draw equipment, with the first practice scheduled for Monday. The athletic activities of the college will open Saturday morning when the athletic committee of the faculty meets with the

617 Candidates for Teams Report to Coaches in Big Ten Loop

Chicago — (P)—Gigirion warriors settled down to hard work on the "Big Ten" battlegrounds today.

With the opening of the practice season yesterday, 617 tough, young aspirants reported for initial drills. The Wiley Robert Zupke, starting his 23rd year as head coach at the University of Illinois, drew the biggest squad, 78 showing up. Seventy-three reported to Bernie Bierman, coach of the 1934 championship Minnesota team, while Lynn Waldorf, making his debut at Northwestern, had the third largest turnout, 72 reporting.

Next in line was Purdue with 71, Indiana with 69, Wisconsin 59, Michigan 55, Iowa and Chicago 59 each, and the pre-season favorite, Ohio State, the smallest squad, 49. Ohio's small squad was restricted to numbers exclusively. The 49 players Coach Francis Schmidt invited back present plenty of beef and driving power as well as speed, football intelligence and cleverness. Schmidt plans to develop four teams as nearly equal as possible.

The Huskies reporting at Minnesota were in such excellent physical condition that Coach Bierman planned to send them into scrimmages in a day or two, but for the most part other Big Ten mentors will delay scrimmage until the first of the week.

Seventeen lettermen reported at Minnesota. Only Captain Gien Seidel, suffering from a skin infection, was missing.
